

Anneli Robins

Year of Call: 2011

Practice Summary

Anneli is described as “fantastic on her feet”, “absolutely brilliant”, and “an exceptional counsel of outstanding ability”. She is ranked as a leading junior in both Legal 500 and Chambers and Partners.

She specialises in property, housing, public law and the Equality Act 2010, with an emphasis on technical arguments, practical solutions and vulnerable defendants.

Anneli frequently provides early tactical advice to those contemplating or expecting proceedings so as to develop a strategy in order to increase prospects of success.

In January 2022, Anneli will be appearing in the Supreme Court for the respondent in Croydon LBC v Kalonga [2021] QB 962. The outcome of this case will affect at least 30,000 tenancies.

---

Memberships

- Housing Law Practitioners Association
- Social Housing Law Association
- Constitutional and Administrative Law Bar Association
- Discrimination Law Association
- Housing and Poverty Steering Group